Dedication . . .

To a dedicated man,
who has served God and Campion,
cheerfully, faithfully, and humbly;
who has taught us so much about the true art of living, and achieved a greater success
quietly, hiddenly,
than most of us will ever attain;
we offer
our congratulations and reverent honor, and a place in our memories and hearts.

Brother Augustine Gaul, S.J.

60 Years a Jesuit
1896 - 1956

30 Years at Campion
1927 - 1957

"God has been so good to me. I am unworthy. Thank God." So spoke Brother Gaul at the breakfast honoring his 60th anniversary as a Jesuit. It summed up the secret of his lifelong happy service.

What is this "happy service"? The 85-year-old brother rises at 4:30 and shuffles to chapel to pray until Community Mass at 5:30. Should a priest be without a server, he eagerly fills in. After an hour meditation and breakfast at 7:15, he hurries to work in the clothesroom until 11:30. Then a pause for prayer, lunch, a short rest, and back to the clothesroom. At 5:45 he joins the Jesuit Community for litanies, then dinner and recreation. A voracious reader of Church history and current news, he often reads until 9:00, then says his Rosary outdoors. He ends each day as he has his last 22,000 days—a 15 minute examen of conscience, a last visit to his Lord in the Blessed Sacrament, and to bed about ten.

Brother expressed his happy vocation as a Jesuit thus: "Nothing extraordinary happens in a brother's life. It's just a day-by-day job. But I thank God every day that he let me join the Society, and let me stay in it for 60 years."

Herein is the secret of his happiness and sanctity—humble gratitude to God.

A Brother's Motto: I work . . . I pray . . . I help others."

A Message To The Senior Class

Reverend James B. Corrigan, S.J.
President and Principal

Seniors of the Class of 1957:

The Campion slogan, "Give Campion a boy and get back a man" is familiar to all of you and to thousands of people throughout the United States. It has come in for its share of humor and parody; but now you have an appreciation of its deeper significance, an appreciation that will grow as long as you live.

In appearance and stature others graduating from high school will be as much men as you are; but being a man, a Campion man, goes far beyond that, both in Campion's aspirations for you and in the actual results of the training you have received.

The man that Campion "gives back" must be a man after the pattern of Christ, the God-Man. He is a man in the sense that he has developed his intellect and will to the highest possible degree. He is a man of character with courage and willingness to stand alone if necessary for what is right and good and just. He is a man because he is a true son of the Blessed Virgin Mary.

Campion manhood is your heritage and your responsibility before the tribunal of God, your own conscience, and the whole world. We congratulate you for having arrived at this unique maturity and beg that God will bless your determination to be always Campion men, the finest in the world.

Sincerely yours,

James B. Corrigan, S.J.

Discipline or help? All in a day's work for the A.P.O.

The way that a school is run is reflected in the spirit and success of the school year. The administration can use this criterion as a proof of a job well done. Fr. Corrigan, who undertook the double duty of president and principal, was faced with the tiring task of attending to the innumerable details of running a boarding school—arranging class schedules, checking grades and student effort, composing college transcripts and letters of recommendation, and advising the choice of college—jobs which require long hours of patient pen-work. He gave many hours to insuring a bright future for Campion both scholastically by painstakingly processing the admissions' qualifications of prospective students and physically by poring over blueprints for a new dormitory building and swimming pool and by organizing the fund-raising campaign. Fr. Doran stepped into the difficult assignment of "the man with the rule book" and did a commendable job in emphasizing the necessity of discipline for the greater happiness of the student body. The co-operation of the students this year was exceptional; and, strange as it may seem, much of the credit for this co-operation lies not with the students themselves, but with the administration.

. . . who will grow in MIND

First in the formation of the Campion man is the training of his mind. When the new freshman begins his life of study (his teen-age vocation), he is faced with six class periods and three hours of supervised study every day. In the history-laden confines of his Kostka Hall home, he learns to study perseveringly and efficiently, and begins to acquire the two aims of Jesuit education, clear thinking and effective speaking.

Here too he goes to class, takes recreation, and slides worn-out into his dormitory bed. Gradually he develops sound habits of study and a balanced mind, so necessary for success in college and business.

Introducing Joe Campion

The little fellow getting off the Burlington Zephyr on page five is none other than the typical Campion Knight, Joe Campion. Throughout the book Joe will grow and develop until he steps back on that same train—a man. In the meantime Joe will get into trouble, he'll meet difficulties, conquer obstacles, make friends, drive his teachers mad; yet, he'll accomplish the purpose for which he came to Campion. He'll gain knowledge, tact, personality, and develop spiritually and physically. And behind all this he'll keep a natural spirit of friendliness and humor so necessary in a boarding school where the same people live close together day after day.

The first step in the formation of Joe Campion is the high hurdle of freshman year. Along with some 180 other individuals, he begins a new career—that of a boarding school student. This change-over is not easy to make and the boys who cross the "Freshman Hurdle" with flying colors deserve sincere congratulations. The first year at Campion is probably the hardest; yet within its limits are some of the most memorable experiences of the student's life. In the next few pages, an attempt has been made to capture a few of the memories of this freshman year.

Talent-packed A "Eats Up" the Matter

Booming with enthusiasm to learn and to have a good time doing it, the members of the 1A class are real spark plugs among the frosh. These fellows have the very profitable knack of eating up the matter which is presented to them. They work hard when it is time to work and get the job done without undue complaining; yet they are fun loving. Campion's ace drummer, "Bubbles" Benso ranks as high on the list of comedians as Tom Ebbers and Dave Zamierowski do on the honor roll.

The teachers of the 1A class see great possibilities for the group in future years if it continues to manifest the tremendous spirit of study and friendliness which has been its characteristic this past freshman year.

Red-Blooded Americans, First, Last, -- Always

"Brain Alley is the freshman melting pot, where everything is melted together to form a small zoo parade . . . " This quote, taken from a description of 1B by one of its members, typifies the extremely lively spirit of these red-blooded American boys. In this class, everyone from "Tex" Holloran to "Willie Pep" DeSteffen is out to get the most out of life, or get a jug trying. The class has nice balance and the activities of its members extend from Al Lanick's "H" bomb experiments in the hobby shop to John Hubbard's membership on the JV basketball squad.

Class 1C is always on top of the situation or else not involved in it at all. These fellows are the fast-talkers and sharp-dressers of the freshman class. All types make up this group of future salesmen. Jim Cowhey and Francis Xavier ("Friendly Franny") Feighan form the core of the entertainment section. Athletic ability is present in the persons of "Easy Ed" Sullivan and "Big Red" O'Hara. Tom Jarzyna and Tony Gebhardt supply intellectual talent. Two noted historians, "Handy-Andy" Zinkl and "Heady-Freddie" Grelle combine to add tasty intellectual tidbits to the daily history classes of Fr. Aspenleiter, S.J. Fr. "A", who also acts as a freshman counselor and student confessor, has been grinding the knowledge of the past into the minds of the present during his nine years at Campion. He also wrote a new history text which is in wide use throughout the country.

There's No Time Like Free Time

Handball always draws a crowd

The boys in 1D are truly representative of the frosh. The group is friendly and co-operative, a distinctive mark of this year's freshmen; yet they too are a vivacious crowd. Two unrelated Carey's have achieved fame for their class. Dave is a member of the JV basketball squad, while Pete has been voted the best-dressed man on campus. Also in the athletic sphere, Bryan Drangle, following in the footsteps of his senior brother, has made a name for himself on both the JV football and JV basketball teams. As a matter of fact, most of the fellows in the class are sportsmen at heart and can be found almost any afternoon playing a little basketball or handball or the like. The game of handball is new to most freshmen and has gained great popularity.

Friendly Atmosphere Pays Off in Hard Work

Fr. Zachman has generously devoted his teaching experience and skill to imparting the fundamentals of Latin and algebra to the frosh for 15 years. This year, he presides daily over the Latin class of the 1E group, led by theinimitable Swiess and Tordella combination. 1E is a small class and consequently is very personable and enjoyable to work with. The hallowed walls of 1E have witnessed the passage of scores of classes, but for sheer spirit and good will few of them could surpass this year's 1E.

Reading, Writing, and Work

Fr. Poeckes uses reading accelerator machine to test reading speed. Here he spends many a long Monday afternoon helping freshmen develop ability to read swiftly and with comprehension.

The fellows in 1F take a back seat to no one. "Our motto is: Keep hitting the book and pretty soon you will break thru the knowledge barrier and discover how smart the world is." The Glynn triplets, Terry, Tom, and "Tiny" Tim, are 1F's triple threat. Terry is not pictured above but joined his illustrious brothers after the photograph was taken. Jose Mas and "Mike" Limon form the nucleus of the formidable Latin quarter. The gem quoted above was composed by 1F's own Frank Krauser.

THE CLASS OF 1959

When Joe Campion enters sophomore year he has a good foundation to build on. He has proved himself equal to his job for an entire year and can look to the future with the assurance which only experience can bring. However, this second year is not free from trouble or problems and the new temptation of overconfidence and high spirits known as "sophomoritis" creeps in. The sophomore feels that he "knows the ropes" and "has been through it all." It doesn't take long before he realizes that no student has been through it all until he graduates. This is the year of formation. By the beginning of the junior year, Joe Campion is well on his way to manhood.

The sophs are separated at Campion—one group remains behind in junior division to set the example for the freshmen, while other moves to Campion Hall and joins the senior division with the upperclassmen. The choice of sections is made by the student, but regulated by the faculty. The second year also brings full participation in ROTC and, in the senior division, the right to smoke. Below, between the two senior division head-prefects, Joe Campion has his first cigar in the Campion smoker.

"Among the other classes 2A enjoys are history, conducted by Fr. Halloran, speech with Fr. Higgins, and Jug with Fr. Kalb," said one member of the group. Everyone in 2A from "Rock" Castellini to Tom "Automotive Designer" Kearns is out to make a name for himself in the world.

Home of the Brave

The title of this page fits both the picture at the top and the one at the bottom. Above are the stalwart men of 2B class and below are the even more stalwart men of the Campion study hall.

2B is composed of all types of sophomores; and, when such a group is assembled within four walls, it is the improbable which usually happens. Nothing gets by these fellows that has the slightest, remotest possibility of humor; yet they seem to absorb a good bit of the knowledge which passes their way. The class can boast Dave Kraemer, soph class officer and football letterman; Mel Pfab, another in the long series of Pfab brothers who have made a name for themselves at Campion; Rick "Rag Arm" McMahon, valuable asset to the JV basketball team; and Al Grieshop, 2B class president.

The Campion study hall is the home of all the senior division sophomores, most of the juniors, and a few unlucky seniors. Between 5:10 and six o'clock and again from seven to 8:30 and 8:50 to 9:30, all of these fellows are firmly implanted behind square desks, every scratch on which is known to them by the end of the year. These desks are the core of a Campion education, for behind them the student acquires firm habits of study which will be invaluable in college. The matter is presented in the classroom, but here in the study hall it is mastered.

"Mischief, Thou Art Afoot"

"Sons of the wide open spaces" is the only phrase which can describe the exuberant spirit of the 2C class. In general, the group is about the same as its rival, 2B; but in particular this class has its own personalities such as Dick Schaefer, John Eck, Mike Pluemer, and Dan Hereley. The new CIL is highly popular in 2C, and the class also has two members of the JV basketball starting five, Jerry Kuchenbecker and Bill Lennartz.

Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar" is the literary work studied in the sophomore year. The purpose of such study is to develop a certain maturity of mind and taste necessary to appreciate good literature. It isn't all as deep and dry as it sounds, however; for there is room for humor in Shakespeare too, as is very evident during the daily English classes of Fr. Curran, S.J.

"They'll do it every time."

Students aren't the only ones with homework.

Just a Big Happy Family

"... but we all get along like one big happy family," says "Big Al" Milos of 2D class. This group, if they can be held in their seats long enough to accomplish it, are capable of very satisfactory work. Their chief athletic pride is Neil Panther, a member of the varsity football squad this past year. John Burke provides the audible amusement while "Dusty II" Rhodes does his bit by drawing caricatures of the Jesuits on the blackboard. The cartoon on the opposite page also applies to this class, for here too are many blooming Julius Caesars, controlled and restrained by their hard-working English teacher, Mr. Ahler, S.J.

Work plus Fun = 2E

As can be seen, this class gets a kick out of life; however, they are a pretty solid group who do their share of work. These fun-loving but controllable fellows get along well with each other; and led by John Kennedy, Phil Weber, and Marty Callary, spend a good deal of time trying to agitate good-natured Joe Granata, the fellow with the moony grin in the picture above. This photograph was taken during history period. The teacher is Mr. Shauz, S.J., a two year member of the Campion faculty who also acts as a junior division prefect.

THE CLASS OF 1958

"The half-way mark is past! We're over the hump now." These are the words of Joe Campion and his 120 classmates upon entering their junior year. Now they are "getting up in the world." The fellows with good scholastic averages receive rooms where they can do all their work in privacy. As juniors, all receive their coveted class rings. As the year wears on, they begin to think in terms of school spirit and group responsibility and to assume the leadership expected of them next year. The time goes faster than ever now. It seems like September was just last week—then suddenly, it seems as if Easter was just yesterday. As the seniors-to-be sit at the graduation of their immediate predecessors, the words "We'll be up there in just one more year!" can be picked up floating through the ceremony-filled atmosphere. Now, Joe Campion begins to realize what Campion is trying to do for him and begins to notice in himself a few traits of maturity; however, their full development is yet to come.

Balanced Spirit of Study and Sports

Brain and brawn seem to be the two big words with 3A. Not only does the group have a good co-operative spirit in class, but they also work well together on the athletic fronts. Doug Grim and John Valiulis were first-string members of the football and basketball squads respectively; and on the intramural fields, 3A finished far in front of any other class in the Campion Intramural Leagues. A good deal of credit for this is due to Bob Dickinson, 3A's CIL spark plug.

The student counsellor for 3A, as well as the other junior classes, is Fr. Hipschen, S.J. This 18 year Campion priest is always willing to lend a hand to any Knight. He is a familiar campus figure as he goes to chapel each night for confessions or snaps pictures at athletic events.

"This year's 3B is better than last year's 2B, and next year's 4B will be tops." This class, often called the "Stooley-Dark Club" is divided into two sections—the entertainers led by Tom Dooley, and the skeptics led by Dick Stark. Other standouts among the 3Bers are Tom James, class president, and Ed "Baseball" Gormley. Spirit and life are real characteristics of 3B.

The inimitable Fr. Scott, S.J., teaches "the astounding subject of physics" to these fellows. Easy-going and steady, he repeats the subject every year with the same freshness and good nature.

"This machine will put forth myriads of electrons with the greatest of ease."

Without Me ...

. . . you can do nothing. Prayer is part of the balanced life of a student at Campion. This balance of life is the characteristic of the 3C class. The fellows study well at the proper time and, led by Powers, Hibbert, and Brennan, do more than their share in athletics. Keough, Gitzinger, Dailey, and Bishop form the center of the lively yet friendly attitude of 3C.

Men of Distinction

Last but far not least among the underclassmen are the "sterling characters" of the 3D group. These fellows are not lacking in ability: Mike Bosch, high point man of the varsity basketball squad; Tim Oskins and Doug Miller, both varsity football and basketball; Bill Joyce, second place in the state American Legion Oratorical Contest; Joe Lecher, varsity football; and Tim Wolohan and Henry Braun, the junior cheerleaders. The class as a whole is easy to work with and is as co-operative as can be expected of a group composed of such sinister characters such as "The Cooler" Sinkule and "The Rio" Mascari.

Whenever a fellow wants to catch up on some overdue homework, cram for an exam, or just read a good book or magazine, he goes to Campion's well equipped Joyce Kilmer Library, one of the most complete high-school libraries in the country. Here also are housed in display cases personal possessions and several original poetic manuscripts of Kilmer, poet and soldier. The library is one of the popular places on campus any time of year, but especially during the winter months when outdoor activities are limited. It is located on the first floor of Campion Hall, right in the center of the campus.

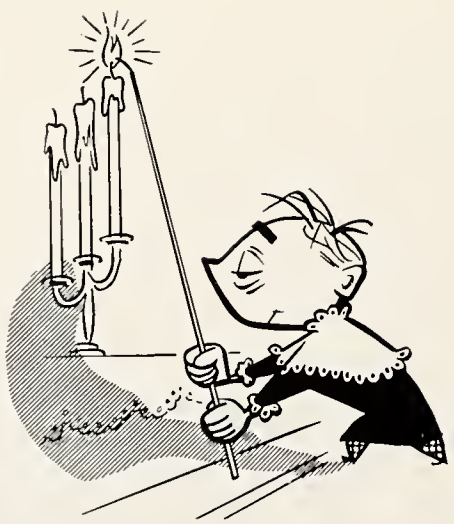
. . . who will grow in CHARACTER



"Dear Lord, thanks for all the help you gave me at Campion. Thanks for daily Mass and Holy Communion—without them I wonder if I would have the strength of character to live my Faith now. Thanks for Your counsel and friendly encouragement through the many priests; thanks for the inspiration of the annual three-day retreat; and thanks for Your presence close-by me in the Students' Chapel, where I could always call on You for help—although I didn't use this privilege nearly enough. But most of all, thanks for the real Catholic atmosphere which surrounded me in the classroom and out over the whole campus, dotted with reminders of You."

"To Jesus Through Mary"--Sodality Vocation

"The present time has need of Catholics who have been solidly grounded in their faith . . . Catholics who, with their gaze fixed on the ideal of Christian virtues of purity and of sanctity, and conscious of the sacrifices it demands, tend to that ideal with all their forces in their daily life . . . Catholics without fear, to whom it is a thing supremely natural to confess their faith openly in word and deed . . . Real men, whole men, strong and fearless . . . To form such men and such Catholics has always been the scope of well-ordered and active Sodalities."

These words, spoken by Pope Pius XII in 1948 to 4000 Sodalists as he celebrated his 50th anniversary as a Sodalist, summarize the purpose of Campion's Sodality: to develop adult Catholic leaders in all the walks of life Campion graduates enter. Convinced that no one will be an apostle or leader unless he is genuinely holy, the Campion Sodality stressed forming habits of personal holiness rather than many external projects. Thus an emphasis was put on the Sodality as a way of life, not a mere club, and on the daily spiritual practices, especially mental prayer. A day of recollection was held each school quarter to renew desire and determination to be real Sodalists. To gain deeper knowledge of the Sodality, all Sodalists and probationers read a history of the Sodality.

Successful school-wide projects were Sodality group reception of Holy Communion on First Saturdays and on Mary's feasts, use of daily missal, half-day of prayer for Hungary in which volunteer groups of five said Rosary continuously, and an Offertory Procession at an evening Mass on the feast of the Immaculate Conception.

The Sodality is organized according to the four years with freshmen beginning the probation after Christmas; those who persevere make their permanent Act of Consecration early in Junior year. Jesuit moderators meet monthly with Sodality Co-ordinator to discuss the progress and chart the course of Campion's Sodality. Meetings are weekly.

Senior officers, analyzing the purpose of a boarding school Sodality, decided the criterion of success should be twofold: personal spiritual formation to be future Catholic leaders and present leadership and co-operation in all school organizations, rather than large-scale school projects. The main study of Senior Sodality was the Church and her world-wide social apostolate in key areas of education, the family, writing and the press, entertainment, social and racial justice, and government. Special meetings on marriage and priestly vocations aided the Sodalists to find their special vocation in Christ's Mystical Body. Each Sodalist prepared and presented at least one meeting and led a discussion. Senior moderators were Fr. Eagan and Mr. Gadzikowski.

Juniors Boost the Missions

The biggest event in the Junior Sodality was the permanent act of consecration to Mary which 27 Juniors made in the Chapel of Our Lady Queen of Angels, October 24. In the solemn ceremony, they came to the Communion rail, made their solemn profession; then two by two came to the main altar steps to be formally received by Fr. Corrigan. The Juniors prepared for the step with a series of meetings reviewing the Sodality way of life, with a day of recollection Sunday, October 21, and with general confession made by each candidate before reception.

The emphasis of Junior Sodality is the apostolate—by personal good example and leadership at school and by knowledge and zeal for the Church's missions and for convert making. Thus the Juniors staged an impressive Living Rosary to begin October, led the daily October Rosary at Mary's shrine, and raised the weekly mission collection to its highest total. Best meetings were on co-operation and school spirit, how practically to be a Sodalist at school, steady dating, and meaning of real character.

Junior Sodality was organized into two groups by Fr. Wiggins and Mr. Carey.

Probationers Learn New Way of Life

The Sodality demands much generosity, almost heroism. For it is a special way of life in which more is expected of a Sodalist than of an average good Catholic.

For this reason the main purpose of the Probation Sodality in freshman and sophomore years is to give the candidate knowledge of the rules and of the true Sodality spirit, and practice in actually living this way of life so that he can freely choose to consecrate himself to Mary in junior year.

As a probationer, he must practice the rules—receive daily Holy Communion, make daily mental prayer, try to give good example, study hard as his present vocation, and honor Mary by daily Rosary. The probation tests the candidate's generosity.

After semester exams, three Senior Sodality officers spoke to the freshmen on the Sodality; about 100 boys decided to try out and were divided into three groups under Messrs. Schauz, Lally, and Quesnell. The 50 sophomore probationers are in three groups directed by Fr. Kalb and Messrs. Lally and Ahler.

Apostles of Prayer

Promote the

This year, Campion students learned about the worldwide Apostleship of Prayer organization and formally joined its 40 million members. Under Fr. Jakubek's energetic direction, the students were encouraged to pray often for the needs of the Church and of souls and to grow in manly love of Christ's Sacred Heart.

Members promise to observe one or all of the three practices. The first is the daily recital of the morning offering in which the student dedicates all his actions in union with the Holy Sacrifice of the Mass for Christ's intentions, for the monthly intention of the Pope, and for the special mission intention—all to atone for the sins of the world. The second practice is to attend Mass and receive Holy Communion in reparation for sin, while the third is to say the Rosary daily to honor Mary's Immaculate Heart.

The monthly First Friday devotions were the main meetings of the Apostleship. At these Fr. Jakubek explained the goal, practices, and benefits of the Apostleship and inspired the students to make reparation to the Sacred Heart suffering for men's sins. The student body was formally enrolled at the February meeting.

Special projects of the Apostleship were planned and relayed to the school by the promoters, two from each class. They met twice a month with Fr. Jakubek and then spoke to their individual casses. Successful projects were class reception of Holy Communion on stated days, promotion of attendance at Holy Hour, and more participation in prayers and singing at Mass. Special monthly projects were the Church Unity Octave in January, decent literature campaign in February, vocations and choice of right state of life in March, union with the suffering Christ in His passion by reparation in April.

the Holy Table

Early every morning about 40 Campion students shake the cobwebs out of their heads to serve for the 26 Jesuit resident priests. Since there are approximately 180 volunteer Mass servers, serving assignments are changed weekly to give everyone an equal opportunity.

The accompanying pictures tell the story of a day in the life of a server. It begins at 5:30 or 6:00 a.m. when he is awakened by the quiet hand of a faculty member. After rising and dressing, he plods with half-mast eyelids across the campus either to the Students' Chapel or Lawler Hall faculty Chapel. He dons an extra small cassock and an extra large surplice and prepares the altar for Mass. The acolyte then returns to the sacristy and helps the priest vest. Then comes the privilege of assisting the priest closely and personally at the Morning Sacrifice. After Mass and Holy Communion, the server makes a brief thanksgiving and heads for breakfast.

The Campion Way To Start the Day

The Campion student rolls out of bed at 6:35 every morning and trudges half-awake toward the Student Chapel for daily Mass. This early morning activity isn't pleasant, but the tremendous spiritual benefit from the Sacrifice of the Mass far overcomes the small physical inconvenience to the student. For Christ gives the students the graces they need to struggle through the sometimes difficult routine of the daily life at Campion.

The Mass at Campion is the result of teamwork. Student sacristans prepare the altar and vestments each morning, and student prayer leaders lead the students in morning prayers, thanksgiving after communion, rosary and Missa Recitatas. The priest-faculty members of this "Mass-team" provide the Sacrifice itself and also the means to reap its full benefit. Each morning four priests hear confession and three others travel back and forth at the Communion rail in their joyful task of bringing Christ's Body to most of the students.

Though all don't realize it, the most profitable part of the student's daily routine is the first, Mass; for here by the teamwork of God and man, of priest and student, a Campion man is formed.

Calm and Quiet, Care and Prayer

The annual three-day Student Retreat is a famous tradition at Campion. Suddenly a mantle of silence covers the noise and hub-bub of the campus, friends avoid friends, the students turn to pamphlet reading, prayer, or just quietly walk around the campus. The senior division retreat was given in the Students' Chapel by Fr. Edward Sthokal, S.J., whose solid, interesting presentation of St. Ignatius' "Spiritual Exercises" was highly popular. He described nature as "the billboard advertising God's goodness," stressed that retreat is a time of remembering big forgotten truths, and emphasized that success—keeping God's life in our souls—is "the right attitude with the right effort at the right time." The freshmen were skillfully introduced to their first closed retreat by Fr. Thomas Halley, S.J.

. . . who will grow in PERSONALITY

Men must live with other men. This demands tact and co-operation, self-confidence and poise, toleration and leadership. Joe Campion develops this balance of personality in a variety of extracurricular activities. Through the Student Council and the ROTC he achieves leadership and self-discipline; on school publications, the 'ette and Knight, he molds himself into the journalist of tomorrow; on the debate and forensic teams he learns confidence and self-expression. The hub of many activities is Campion Hall, with 11 classrooms, two labs, the Joyce Kilmer Library, debate room, Campion smoker, and the ROTC office, armory, and rifle range.

Typical bi-weekly executive meeting of council: Valiulis, Drangle, Burbach, Zamierowski, Fr. Kalb, Doman, Weber.

School Leaders Form Student-Faculty Link

The Campion students have an opportunity to take part in their own legislation through the Student Council, the representative government of the student body. At the weekly gatherings of the organization, the views of the students on issues of school legislation are presented and discussed by their representatives. Practical suggestions are then prepared for presentation to the principal. The Jesuits are represented at these meetings by Fr. Kalb, S.J., who explains the stand of the faculty on the proposed matters and also introduces the faculty requests to the students.

A few accomplishments of the council this year were to acquire television for the student body and to promote a slogan contest for the basketball tournament games. They also sponsored the Christmas prom and Thanksgiving dance and organized several mixers at Sinsinawa, Wisconsin. Student action livened up daily Mass and broadcasted some of Campion's away basketball games through Campion's VOC.

The council is so set up that the officers of the senior class are also its officers. Consequently, the president of the organization is George Burbach, vice-president John Doman, secretary Bob Weber, and treasurer Bruce Drangle.

This exclusive club is composed of those Knights who have proved worthy of the Campion "C" for their efforts in varsity football, basketball, baseball, or track. Ability, determination, and hard work are demanded of the letter-winner.

Each year the Monogram Club, moderated by Fr. Edward McCarthy, S.J., sponsors a movie for the students. The proceeds are used for the purchase of athletic equipment. Members also act as ushers for all the home basketball games and for any entertainment programs in the gym.

The officers of the Monogram Club are Mike Tate, Tim Dean, and Mike White. The "senior member" of the organization is Bruce Drangle, who has earned seven letters on Campion's athletic fronts.

Bellarmines Learn Friendly Persuasion

Star debater (foreground) hangs on every word during instruction.

Fr. R. J. Grennan, S.J.
History, 1; Religion, 1; Dean Campion Hall; Speech Moderator; Debate Moderator.

The principles of logical thinking and the art of persuasive speaking are the goals of the Campion Debate Team. Trained minds are pitted against one another in a duel over an important national issue. This year the topic for debate was the economic farm problem.

This was a good year for the Campion Bellarmine Society. The debaters won 27 of 49 debates and placed third out of thirteen schools in the National Forensic League meet at Sheboygan, Wisconsin. In the course of the year they went on eight trips to Dubuque, Eau Claire, Richland Center, Sheboygan and LaCrosse. Due credit should be given to Father Grennan, S.J., the moderator, who spends a great deal of time working with these men to improve their speaking and argumentation.

The debaters meet for an hour each day to work on their speeches for the next debate and discuss their own ideas on the central topic. On their own time, they gather new information on that topic and work up fresh approaches for their arguments. They also practice their speaking delivery at the times they choose. The formal debate itself is one hour long. Each of the four speakers has a 15-minute period to present his carefully thought-out argument which may have taken him six weeks to prepare.

Frosh debaters Bannon, Bergstrom, Dixson, Zamierowski, J. E. O'Connor, and E. Conter get taste of the work behind the fun.

The negative side is represented by Tom Murphy and Mike Stevens. Dick Stark, John Schwieters, Mike Case, and Tony Daly comprise the "B" squad. Both teams enjoyed a successful season.

Campus Crier Beams Music, News, and Sports

The "Voice of Campion" is a part-time radio station owned by the school and operated by the students. This year, thanks to a revamping of the broadcasting system and new program approaches, VOC is becoming more familiar to Campionites. Mr. Graf, S.J., the moderater of the organization, worked for several months to re-wire the existing equipment into an entirely new system, very similar to an actual commercial broadcasting station. Now the student broadcasters can not only provide better entertainment for the campus but can also gain a great deal of practical experience.

The special-events broadcasts were especially popular this year. These included the campaign programs before the Senior class officer elections and broadcasts of road basketball games.

A Club for Musicians . . .

The Hammond Organ Society at Campion is a chapter of the National Hammond Society which was initiated in 1948. The purpose of this society is "to encourage the enjoyment of good music, to aid in acquisition of playing techniques and skills, and to help share the good fellowship of a common musical interest." The Society is the only organization on campus which can boast of a national charter. Bi-weekly meetings during the school year included numerous individual recitals by organ students and concerts by guest organists. The officers of the Society this year were: president, James Bayley; vice-president, Daniel O'Donnell; secretary, Joel Sinkule; treasurer, Dan Hughes.

The Music Appreciation Group at Campion was formed to develop deeper enjoyment and appreciation of classical music in its members. The group accomplishes this by analyzing the great masterpieces in its weekly meetings. The club, moderated by Mr. F. J. Mininni, S.J., elected John Callahan, Mike Cummings, and T. K. Murphy as its officers.

There's No Business Like Show Business

"Career Angel" was the big word with the Masquers this year. In January, after working on the three act comedy the first semester, the Masquers presented their production to Campion and Prairie du Chien audiences. The plot of the play centered about the faculty of an orphanage deeply in debt. Freddy Domville stole the show as the easy-going guardian angel who pulled the orphanage out of debt, but whose unorthodox methods caused no end of consternation among the brothers.

Part of this play was taken to the Diocesan Play Festival. There, the Masquers received the highest rating, "Superior." Although eight schools competed Campion received five of the fifteen acting awards. Mike Frost, Bob Constable, Jim Madda, Keith Rothschild, and Fred Domville brought these back to Campion.

In May, the Masquers presented the three-act comedy "Harvey," starring Bob Constable, Greg Hellrung, Bob Zwaska, Keith Rothschild, and Mike Frost. It is the story of Elwood P. Dowd, a distracted inebriate and his invisible rabbit-friend, Harvey.

Fr. Higgins, S.J., the hard-working moderator of the group, deserves most of the credit for the successful season. He casted, directed, and produced all the plays, often working long into the night on the huge tasks of creating and building scenery and renovating electrical equipment.

Caesar Dies Modern

During December the student body crowded into the campus theater to witness Shakespeare's Julius Caesar, presented by their fellow students under the guiding hand of Fr. Joseph Curran, S.J. Leading characters in this "first" at Campion were Paul Koch as Brutus; Bill Steber, Caesar; John Doman, Anthony; Ward Doering, Cassius; and Tom Herman, Casca. The attire of the characters gave the production a modern effect. The militarists were garbed in the various uniforms of the armed services of today, while the plotters were decked out in gangster regalia. The mob wore what is known at Campion as "Sunday Dress" (good clothes). The school paper might be called the barometer of the spirit and success of the school. Keeping a hand on the pulse of Campion is the bi-weekly news magazine, the 'ette. Co-editors Bill Kurz and Greg Gehred tried to cover all the school happenings, from latest league results to activities of all student organizations, and set them down in interesting style. They found problems in doing this—it was not always easy to please the varied interests of all 2700 subscribers.

The staff achieved special success in writing concise news articles. This left more space for special feature articles and for the "News and Views" and "People" sections, which rose to a new popularity.

Through the efforts and co-operation of 'ette moderator Fr. Millmann, S.J., and the forty members of the editorial, writing, photography, and circulation staffs, the Campionette was again an important student function and an interesting and varied publication. As in past years, the latest edition was a welcome break in the Campion routine.

Co-editors Kurz and Gehred check galley-proofs of January 'ette.

"I wonder if that's a period or a spot on my glasses," remarks Callahan to Bob Bell.

"His free-throw percentage was .39756 not .39755," explains Fr. Millmann to sports reporters Miller and Kay.

184 Pages Capture Spirit of Successful Year

Knight editors, Weber and Clemens, carefully arrange their own pictures in senior section.

Knight staff in action: Maurie Lord (argyle socks), Greg Hellrung (at desk), Bill Lang and Jim Nack (viewing Bill's baby pictures), George Burbach (polka-dot shirt), and Tim Kelly (freckle on neck).

Between the covers of this Knight are nine months of life at a boarding school. This life is a complex one, and to capture it in picture and print requires hours of planning, writing, and checking. The process started when editor-in-chief Bob Weber conceived the "Get Back a Man" theme and applied it to each section of the book.

Then work began in earnest. The first step was the exacting job of page-designing. Through the originality and artistry of managing editor Herb Clemens and Weber the layout of the book took shape. For every page design chosen, five were discarded. Finally, the layout was decided on and the dummy or exact pattern of the book was a reality.

Step two was the coming of Mr. Bob "Smiles" Madigan for three action-packed days of picture-taking. His visit was followed by the tedious job of "cropping" these photographs down to the size and proportion in which they now appear in the book. The sticky task of mounting many of the pictures on cardboard was taken in stride by the fabulous "Ke-Lo" crew, Tim KElly and Maurie LOrd. These pictures were then sent to the photo-engravers to be made into zinc plates apt for printing.

But pictures don't make up the book alone; so the men with the talented typewriters set to work on the brain-teasing assignment of article writing. Their masterpieces were then reworked into greater masterpieces by re-write editors Bill Kurz and Jim Nack. By this time the smell of a finished yearbook began to permeate the Knight room. All pictures were ready and all "copy" was written. Only page headlines and countless picture identifications stood between the anxious editors and their goal. Then, with a sigh of relief, they finally slid the last ident to the printers.

The book was ready to go! All the zinc pictures and galleys of print were pieced together and sample "page proofs" were drawn to insure correctness to the most minute detail. The book was then left in the hands of the printers, binders, and cover men. As for the staff, hours of afternoon and night work, of rushing for deadlines, and of painstaking organization and enjoyable teamwork were over.

But during all these months, two behind-the-scenes crews were doing valuable work. Business manager Joe Zorc and assistant Bill Cowhey were writing letters to collect the money to finance the book. With novel red stationary and sheer perseverance, they completed their drive in March, well over the goal. Likewise, the archive staff worked at the formidable task of melting 15 years of accumulated zinc plates to sell for scrap and of cataloguing those saved.

Burbach and Frost design new poster for Sunday movie while Mr. Burke and Schrup play tic-tac-toe.

The Art Club, under the direction of Mr. Burke, S.J., designs eye-catching posters for the school's bulletin boards to announce the coming events. The members also work out various banners for varsity games. Finally, this club has the colorful task of painting the eleborate decorations for the annual Military Ball. In the Art room the Ball is designed and decorations are prepared before being moved into the gym. This last item is the club's biggest and most welcomed undertaking of the year.

ROTC Bugles Play "Song of the South"

The theme of the 1957 Military Ball was "Song of the South," a phrase bringing to mind such pictures as a Southern Plantation with its rolling landscape and rambling Manor House at the end of an oak-lined driveway. The gym was transformed into a Southern Plantation by the artistic genius of Mr. Burke, S.J., and some forty upperclassmen.

As the couples approached the gym on the night of March 2, they were transported into the deep South for an evening of make-believe. On the steps of the gym was an old Civil War cannon. Inside the dancers saw an elaborate water fountain made realistic with a dozen live ducklings. Against the north wall was the Manor House with the band playing on the front porch. Hedges and lampposts lined the side walls with a mural of a stone fence running the perimeter of the gym. The ceiling was covered with blue paper with various constellations scattered about. The Ball was a complete success.

The leaders of the decorating committee, who put in so many hours since Christmas to make the Ball such a success, were Mr. Burke, S.J., Tom Schrup, George Burbach, Tom Knapp, Bill Lang, Mike Frost, and Jim Strzok.

Schrup won the tic-tac-toe, so the same four bring out plans for "Song of the South."

They Lead the Pep

At Campion the Cheerleaders are the direct link between the varsity players and the student body in the stands. They, as it were, bring the students into the game; and any team with five hundred players cannot have a losing season—witness the winning record of the football and basketball squads. Led by veteran seniors, Ron Seniors Wagner and Fletcher make vain attempt to get classmates to cheer for cameraman.

"We gotta' F-I-G-H-T. . ." Gaffney, Markey, Jordan, and Wolohan spin out the spirit.

Wagner, John Gaffney, Deeds Fletcher, Mike Frost, Bill Jordan, and Joe Markey, and aided by juniors Tim Wolohan and Henry Braun, the cheerleaders were a familiar sight coaxing the east stands to out-do the west stands in the "big C-A". Highly popular this year was the new Wagner and Fletcher "Fight-Team-Fight" routine. With the aid of their coach, Mr. Carl Quesnell, these cheerleaders handle "student participation" in all major sports events at Campion.

They Play the Pep

" . . and we'll have Wagner jump from the top of Campion Hall to attract attention." Mr. Quesnell plans pep rally with officers Wall, Wagner, Magee and Gill.

They Boost The Pep

This year a new group known as the Booster Club entered the Campion core of organizations. The club was introduced for the first time at Campion by Mr. Quesnell, S.J., who took on the task of directing the organization. Through his efforts the club achieved unusual success and contributed greatly to school spirit.

The purpose of the group can be stated in a phrase—to back every school undertaking from football to debate. In carrying out its function, the club lets the little man about campus know what is going on when. During the year it helped plan out the Homecoming celebration, sponsored the November dance in co-operation with the Student Council, ran the pep rallies, and advertised coming events.

The Stellar Society is a new organization devoted to the study of the heavens. It had the use of two medium power telescopes, and supplemented these by constructing a reflecting telescope utilizing a six-inch parabolic reflecting mirror. Each week the group meets in the Physics classroom where a member gives a short lecture, followed by a group discussion. Several of the meetings have been highlighted by demonstrations in spectroscopic analysis and the operation of a planatarium.

As in past years, the Science Club participated in the annual meet of the Wisconsin Junior Academy of Science held at Eau Claire, Wisconsin. At the meet, Jim Strzok demonstrated the gentle art of crystal growing. Dick Blatz and Jim Ryan collaborated in entering a stroboscopic display. The biggest project was the Van de Graaff generator built by Mike Cummings. It was the most ambitious individual project built by any student during the past nine years. It is Monday. Daylight pierces the morning sky. The bell rings. The bugle blows. One thousand bleary eyes form into "the long khaki line" across the Campion ROTC drill field. A gravel voice shatters the crisp morning air. Five-hunderd numb hands snap to salute. The bugle tries again. The flag clicks up the long, battered pole. Again the gravel grumbles. Hands drop like clock pendulums. Slowly the line is drawn toward the Campion chapel.

The sun rises. The day wears on. It is afternoon. One thousand gleaming shoes form into "the long khaki line." The gravel voice has been cleared by now and sharp commands pierce the sun-filled sky. Rifle bolts snap and screech at the slightest motion of a gloved hand. Then the line moves out, stirring up a cloud of dust. Half an hour later it returns to its original position and disappears. The campus returns to normal.

The regular army staff, which supervises the ROTC unit at Campion, is composed of Captain Riddlemoser, PMS&T, M/Sgts. Zenz and Pinard, and Sgt. Schenck. At the semester a new man was added to this staff, M/Sgt. Ziegler. In actuality M/Sgt. Ziegler is not a complete stranger to Campion, for this is his third hitch here.

Military training is divided into two parts, study and drill. The classroom work is directed solely by the regular Army staff. For all, except the freshmen, this consists of two forty-five minute periods per week. The drilling segment, described on the opposite page, is controlled through student officers.

Cadet Lieutenant Colonel John Doman commands the battalion this year. His staff includes Cadet Major Joseph Zorc and Cadet Captain George Burbach. Under them, at company level are Cadet Captain Paul Hinko, "A" company commander; Cadet Captain Timothy Kelly, "B" company; Cadet Captain Robert Weber, "C" company; Cadet Captain Thomas Woerth, "D" company; and Cadet Captain Richard Magee, Headquarters company.

Band Puts Beat Into Monday

The band, as it is known at Campion today, had its beginning with the establishment of the ROTC battalion. In the routine of military, the band functions as Headquarters company, performing such duties as leading retreat parades and playing at presentations.

This year's band has been active in many school affairs. Homecoming brought the first big assignment. The band entertained the crowd at halftime with a few of the John Phillip Sousa favorites while going through some precision drill. With the arrival of basketball season, the band, for the first time in many years, took its place in the north-west corner of the Campion Gym. It began each contest with the Star Spangled Banner and added a musical beat throughout the games with everything from "The Victors" to "Chattanooga Shoe Shine Boy." This set the tempo for the high sports spirit of the student body. After basketball season, there yet remained on the musical agenda the Mother's Day celebration and the spring parades in ROTC.

This year's band was under the direction of Dick Magee, assisted by Ron Jagos, Bob Neumann and Bob Douglas.

This year's Drill Team was a snappy performing unit in its various public appearances. Under the management of Sgt. Schenck, they performed on Homecoming Weekend, for Mother's Day, and served as an honor guard for the inspecting Fifth Army General in November. The Drill Team is a separate unit during Monday ROTC drill, giving it more practice time.

The Rifle Team, which became a minor varsity sport this year, has amassed a 2-6 record but has only been outscored on total points by 9,596 to 9,367. The team's opponents included Premontre, Davenport, and St. Norbert's high schools and St. John's and Northwestern military acadamies, schools noted for excellent rifle teams. M/Sgt. Pinard awarded minor letters to Joe Markey, Mike Grahek, Jim Zahora, Bill Barnes, John Corrigan, Dave Dagnon, John Sullivan, Ken Snyker, and Jim Korinek.

. . . who will grow in BODY

Joe Campion could not develop into a full Campion man without a "strong body" for his "strong mind." Joe made the Knight varsities where he developed not only athletic skill but also self-control, teamwork, and manliness under Coach Jim Peterson's wholesome direction. Even if Joe hadn't made the varsity, he still would have had ample opportunity to develop himself physically through the extensive Campion Intramural Leagues and the available facilities for ice-skating, skiing, hiking in the scenic bluffs, tennis, golf, bowling, and for pick-up games in the major sports. Joe will not be an unbalanced man thanks to the healthful, vigorous exercise he enjoys at Campion.

Varsity Football

All Campion is justly proud of the 1956 football squad led by co-captains Mike Tate and John Doman. Coaches James Peterson and Fr. Walter Halloran must be given the credit for developing the team into a smooth functioning unit. Not only did the Knights achieve a fine record; but even more important they taught everyone a memorable lesson, for they demonstrated the power of hard work and co-operation, of self-control and determination. They have shown the manner in which any Campion team should operate, whether it be a football squad, a baseball club, a debate society, or the foremost Campion team of all—the Student Body. Their example set the tone for the entire year—a year marked by intense school spirit.

In early minutes of play Bud Erb finds opening in Assumption line.

CAMPION 48 - ASSUMPTION 0

The 1956 Campion football squad started off the season with a bang, swamping a smaller Assumption Royal eleven, 48-0. It was Campion all the way from the opening kick-off, as Bud Erb hot-footed it 37 yards to open the scoring early in the first frame. Coach Peterson was able to let most of the team play when it became obvious that the boys from Wisconsin Rapids couldn't cope with Campion's mooses, Tim Dean, Mike O'Brien, and John Doman. From then on the Red Knights piled up points and yardage. They gained 273 yards to Assumption's 114 and were never forced to punt.

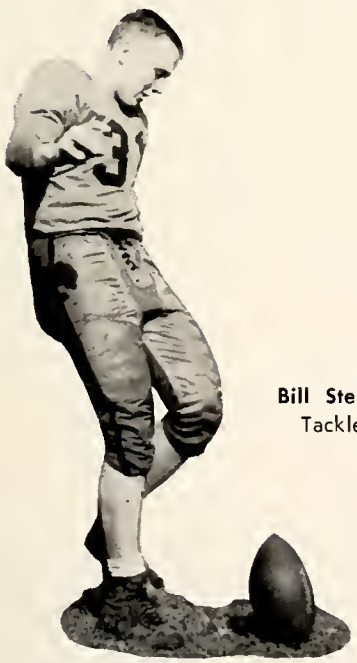
CAMPION 25 - MILWAUKEE PIUS 14



Bill Steber
Tackle

In the season's first real test against a highly rated Pius of Milwaukee on Saturday, Sept. 15, the Red Kinghts proved their mettle. They gave notice of the "never-say die" spirit so characteristic of the season by coming from behind twice for victory. Things looked bad when Pius romped for a TD on their third play from scrimmage. But the highly spirited Knights bounced back by mixing line smashes and two smoothly executed TD screen passes from Grim to Drangle to lead at the half, 13-7. Pius surged ahead in the third frame, 14-13; but Coach Peterson's daring strategy of two fourth down passes set up two final-quarter TD's to sew up a sweet victory, 25-14.

CAMPION 0 - EDGEWOOD 0

On Sunday, Sept. 23, the Knights played their first road game against Edgewood of Madison. In the role of underdog, Edgewood proved a formidable opponent as they dueled the Knights to a scoreless deadlock. The game was marked by vicious tackling and blocking, particularly by Edgewood. The Knights, led by fullback Powers, ground out yardage almost at will through big holes in the Edgewood line; but seven fumbles stifled any sustained drive. Although the game was a letdown for the heavily favored Knights who gained 231 yards to Edgewood's 112 and rolled up 12 first downs to 5, it had an important effect. The team determined to be "up" for each game—as a result they rolled up 90 points while yielding only 12 in the remaining games.

CAMPION 50 - NEWMAN 0

Rebounding with determination from the Edgewood game, the Knights traveled to Wausau to meet an undefeated Newman squad. On paper the Cardinals looked like an impressive ball club. But once on the field, the Knights forgot formalities and almost ran Newman out of the stadium. Campion piled up a tremendous total of 600 yards to the Cardinal's 77. John Powers constantly drove through Newman's line for large gains while the Knights gave their opposition nothing in the way of substantial yardage. Reserve halfback Joe Lecher came in to tally three 4th quarter touchdowns which turned the contest into a complete rout.

CAMPION 0 - DUBUQUE LORAS 6

Football fever ran high around Campion on Oct. 6. The Knights were out to break the 10 year Loras jinx. The Gubs received the opening kickoff and drove deep into Campion territory on a succession of sharp, quick power plays. The Red and Black managed to hold at their own 20, but they couldn't get anything started and had to punt. Before the Red Knights had a chance to recover, Ardie Esslinger and his Gubs put together another quick series of off-tackle slants and power plays to score on Esslinger's 18 yard run. Bill Steber slashed through the Loras line to block the kick, but the damage was done. The Knights proved equal to the Gubs the rest of the game, but to win they had to be better. Campion got agonizingly close to victory late in the fourth quarter when quarterback Grim finally overcame a strong cross wind with a long pass that hit Mike White cutting down and in. The Knights drove to the Loras four, but the Gub defense stiffened and held. Led by Esslinger, the Gubs then ate up the clock with a sustained drive down field. The game ended with Loras on the Campion nine.

CAMPION 21 - LA CROSSE CENTRAL 0

Halfback

On Saturday, Oct. 13, the Red Raiders of LaCrosse invaded the Campion campus in hopes of spoiling the Knights' Homecoming festivities just as the '55 Campion squad did in LaCrosse. Campion kicked off, and for the next few plays Central ran at will through the Knight line. However, they ran amuck before doing any damage, and the Knights took over after the punt. Action progressed evenly till late in the quarter when Campion got a drive started from its own 42 yard line. They finally capitalized early in the second period on a two-yard plunge by J. P. Powers. Bill Steber kicked the point and the Red Knights led 7-0. Later in the same period, Powers crashed through Central's offensive line to intercept a lateral and romped unmolested for 58 yards to score. Once again Steber split the uprights and the Red and Black led 14-0. In the fourth frame, another drive got rolling and ended in a score with a pass by Grim and a circus catch by Drangle. A Grim-to-Burbach pass accounted for the final PAT. As joyful fans swarmed onto the field, viewers of previous Homecoming games commented on the crisp blocking and tackling of Coach Peterson's gridiron machine.

CAMPION 13 - LA CROSSE AQUINAS 6

Dave Kraemer
End

With determination to ruin Aquinas' homecoming, the Knights carried out their annual invasion of LaCrosse in perfect fashion. The sparkling feature of the game was Campion's "hard rock" defense. Six times Campion's forward wall halted the driving plunges of Bob Halaska and company inside the Knight's 15 yard line. The Blugolds took the opening kick-off and moved to a first down on the Campion four; but the Knight line pushed Aquinas back to the 11. Aquinas first scored on a deflected pass, but Campion came right back when Mike Tate climaxed a 76 yard drive, scoring from the three. Fifty seconds before half time, the Red and Black turned a short Aquinas punt into another T.D., as again Tate slanted off tackle for the score. The second half proved to be a scoreless see-saw.

CAMPION 6 - LOURDES 0

The last game of the season proved to be one of the toughest for the Knights. The Rochester Lourdes Eagles, unbeaten since Campion's '55 contingent handed them a 7-0 defeat in a Minnesota blizzard, had the fastest team the Knights had faced. Their blinding speed ran the Knights ragged between the twenty yard lines; but once inside the twenty, they couldn't cope with Campion's superior power. Again, the Knights' defense was brilliant as they made two valiant goal-line stands, but the Red and Black offense had trouble getting started. The turning point came late in the last quarter when Doug Grim unleashed an 85-yard punt that rolled dead on the defenders' five yard line. A hurried fourth down punt enabled Campion to take over on the seventeen. Erb, Tate, Powers, and Grim ground out the necessary yardage for the score, which came with only two minutes left. These six points capped a tremendous game and wound up a great season for the Knights.

Costumed seniors live it up.

Highlights of a 14 - 12 Season

Campion 52 — St. John's 42. The season ahead looked promising as the Campion Knights registered this morale-building road victory over Milwaukee St. John's. Guard Mike White and Center Mike Bosch led the scoring with 14 and 12 points.

Lancaster 58 — Campion 57. Campion's first home game of the season ended on a sour, frustrating note as they bowed in an overtime to Lancaster's Flying Arrows. The Knights jumped to an early ten point lead, but by the middle of the fourth frame they were down by seven. A last second three point play by Bosch sent the game into an overtime. Campion held a breath-taking one point lead until Lancaster's Udelhoven leaped high to score at the buzzer.

Campion 63 — Aquinas 60. Campion staved off a last minute attack of the hot Aquinas ball club in the new La Crosse Auditorium to register their second victory. The Blugold shooting ability was counteracted by the consistent rebounding of Bosch and Powers. The Red and Black were not seriously threatened until an all-out Aquinas press trimmed the margin to three; but the floor work of Gill and White saved the win.

Campion 57 — Pacelli Central 46. In their second home appearance, the Knights found victory in height. The spunky but small Shamrocks from Minnesota traded blows evenly with their hosts for the entire first half, then cooled off. Campion shot .388 with Bosch grabbing 21 rebounds.

Campion 70 — Assumption 39. Campion had little trouble in swamping Assumption of Wisconsin Rapids to open its conference schedule. The Knights heaped up a 22-7 first quarter lead, and from there romped home. Campion's fast break brought their big lead, and complete control of the boards plus some sharp shooting kept it. Campion copped 56 rebounds and hit a .405 clip.

Loras 50 — Campion 47. On Dec. 5, Campion invaded the deadly confines of the Loras gym. Although the Knights trailed throughout, a fourth quarter press narrowed the Gub margin to a single painful point. But seconds after Gill muffed a pressure free throw, Loras's Wright sunk a brace of charity tosses; and the indifferent scoreboard clock slammed the door on frantic Campion efforts.

Campion 61 — Pacelli 55. Highly favored Campion met a short but red-hot Stevens Point Pacelli team on Dec. 12. The Knights sprang to a 10-2 lead with Tate's three sets, but their shooting grew cold and Pacelli overtook them before the half. Campion's rebound control finally told in the end; Powers' three tip-ins cinched it.

Cotter 58 — Campion 53. The visiting Ramblers started fast and although the Knights often threatened they could never quite catch up. Campion scoring was balanced, but poor shooting resulted in many wasted chances. Powers did a good job under the boards, hauling in 14 rebounds.

Newman 55 — Campion 39. In their first contest after Christmas, Campion was snowed under by Newman of Wausau for its first conference loss. The Knights shot very poorly, hitting .240 from the field and seven of 17 free throws. The holiday layoff was evident, as the game was very loosely played. High for Campion was junior forward Powers with 11 points.

Regis 50 — Campion 40. Still far from their peak after the holidays, the Knights fell before a scrappy Regis squad. Three consecutive fast breaks pushed Campion to a 15-9 lead, but they slumped to a fatal eight-point deficit by halftime. The second half was played on even terms.

Campion 81 — McDonnell 49. Against McDonnell on Jan. 20, Campion managed to shake off early game doldrums to gain a onesided 81-49 victory and another conference win. After a slow first quarter, they began to hit consistently with Bosch, Gill, and Valiulis leading the way. In the third period, the bench took over and accounted for 27 points.

Campion 53 — Aquinas 49. The Knights had to stave off a fourth-quarter surge by the determined Aquinas Blugolds to add this victory. Campion led throughout the game, but the 53-49 score doesn't show their actual predominance; for they held a 14 point margin for most of the contest. Junior Mike Bosch sparked the Knights with 19 points.

Columbus 56 — Campion 54. Jan. 26 saw the Knights traveling to Marshfield to receive their second CWCC loss. It was a see-saw affair until, with 30 seconds remaining and the score knotted, a missed free throw, a grabbed rebound, and a hurried shot spelled defeat for the luckless Campion quintet. Bosch hit for 22 points.

Campion 50 — Assumption 35. The Knights built up a 15-point lead at halftime, and then coasted home to gain their eighth victory of the campaign. Sparked by four-out-of-four buckets by junior John Valiulis in the second period, Campion pulled ahead to stay. Despite the low score, the Knights shot an excellent .463. Mike Bosch dominated both boards and collected 12 points to top the balanced Campion attack.

Cotter 51 — Campion 49. Second half trouble again plagued the Red Knights on Jan. 30 when they traveled to Winona and dropped a hair-puller to the Ramblers. The Knights led almost the whole game; yet a last period surge by Cotter spelled defeat. Campion sunk 23 of 28 free throws.

Campion 52 — Pacelli 32. Campion gained the victory road again on Feb. 3 with a decisive rout of Stevens Point, Pacelli. Coach Peterson used every man on his bench, but three Knights still hit the double columns—White with 12, and Gill and Bosch with 10 apiece.

Loras 59 — Campion 53. Determination was the key word from the tip-off in the return bout with Loras. The visiting Gubs were out to capture their one-hundredth triumph for Coach Van Combes, and Campion was equally set on shattering the "Loras Barrier" The Knights were always close but never close enough, despite eighteen points via Mike White.

Campion 61 — Newman 57. Down by nine at the half, Campion rallied to take a thrilling double over-time triumph from league-leading Newman in a game which eventually enabled the Knights to share the conference title. First half play was sloppy; but, led by Tate and White, Campion tied the score at 49-all as the fourth quarter ended. White sank two clutch free throws to tie up the first overtime, while goals by Dean and Powers iced things in the second. Seniors White and Tate led the offensive attack with 16 and 15 points.

Campion 68 — McDonell 42. The second Campion—McDonell contest was an exact duplicate of the first. Again the Knights were never in danger after building up a 13 point first quarter edge. Powers led the heavy scoring attack with 23 points.

Campion 77 — Columbus 41. The Red Knights finished their conference schedule on a high note, thoroughly thumping the Columbus Dons to revenge an earlier two-point loss at Marshfield. Sharpshooters Gill and Valiulis dumped through 19 and 18 points respectively. This victory ended the Knights' conference play with an 8-2 mark and a tie for the championship.

Platteville 58 — Campion 56. Campion traveled confidently to Platteville, but soon found that the Hillmen were not to be taken lightly. Neither team pieced together a substantial margin and the final buzzer sounded on an undecided scoreboard. In the overtime, the Knights failed to organize and slipped to defeat. Tom Gill paced Campion with 17.

Regis 64 — Campion 57. On Feb. 26 the Knights completed their regular season, dropping a rematch with Regis at Eau Claire. Ragged ball-handling coupled with a sudden inability to find the range caused a 10-point Red and Black advantage to dwindle hopelessly. A deciding factor in the contest was Campion's ineptness from the charity stripe. In this game the Knights bowed to another jinx—Campion has never defeated Regis on the Rambler's floor.

Regionals

Campion 78 — Sacred Heart 64. Campion needed a 12-point flurry in the final two minutes to pull away from a scrappy Scared Heart squad which had closed an early Knight lead to 60-57. Bosch's 21 points, a good zone defense and superior height moved the Knights into the finals.

Campion 57 — Aquinas 55. Boosted by the cheering Seniors, the Red Knights won a state-tourney berth in a thrill-packed contest in La Crosse City Auditorium. Campion raced to an early lead on Bosch's and Powers' rebounding and Gill's and Bosch's hot jump-shots. Tension mounted as Bosch fouled out and Aquinas' full court press pulled them to 53-52 with three minutes left. But Gill coolly sank four free throws and teamed with Hibbert to stall out a tingling victory. Gill and Bosch led with 20 and 18 points.

State Tournament

Assumption 45 — Campion 36. The Knights, with two previous wins over Assumption, were heavy favorites. But the underdog Royals dropped in their first six shots and then went into a semi-stall which completely stymied the Campion zone defense. Over-anxious fouls, coupled with a .207 shooting mark, extinguished all state-champ hopes for the jittery Knights.

St. Mary's 83 — Campion 76. Campion's tournament bad luck continued in the consolation round when they met a tall, red-hot St. Mary's team boasting a 24-4 record. Kenosha built a 50-30 halftime edge on 22 buckets in 30 tries. The spirited Knights gamely fought back to 75-70 with two minutes left; but St. Mary's .561 goal percentage was too much to overcome as a new tournament record for combined total points scored in one game was set. Gill paced the Red and Black with 26 points.

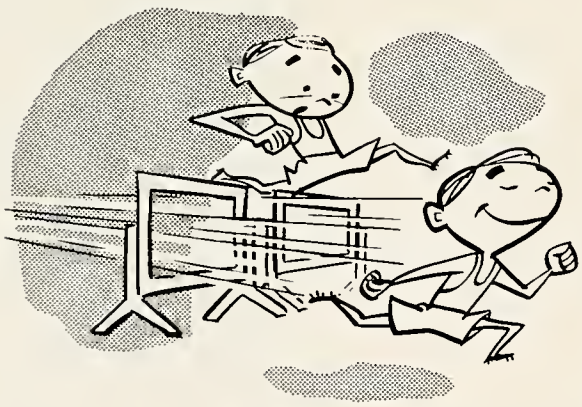
New Coach Develops New Trackmen



Severly hampered by bad March and April weather causing the loss of valuable hours of practice time, this year's varsity track team was at a disadvantage from the very beginning of the season. This factor, plus an injury to miler Paul Koch, contributed to the 68-50 loss which the trackmen received at the hands of Prairie High School in the first meet. The other matches, all in May, pitted the squad against Richland Center, Regis, LaCrosse Central, Lourdes, and in a triangular meet against Loras and Dubuque Senior high. Jim Strzok's all-around ability in the high jump, 220, and shot put, Joe Lecher's point-getting speed in the sprints, and Captain Jim Ulrich's consistent quarter mile were looked to as the strong points of this year's team. One of the most hopeful spots in the track picture is the supply of junior and sophomore talent which should form the nucleus of a strong team next year.

Golfers--Par Pros

This year's golf squad had three returning lettermen, seniors Maurie Lord and Tim Dean and junior John Valiulis. Lord and Dean have the power and timing for good distance, while Valiulis is noted for his accuracy around the greens. A surprise addition to their ranks was freshman Mike Mallon, who captured the fourth spot on the roster through his consistent swing. Veterans Bill Steber and Bill Baldwin and newcomers Chuck Nicolai, Mike Chatel, Tom Schrup, and Greg Gehred rounded out the ten-man squad. Coaches Fr. Sthokal and Mr. Burke lined up matches with five schools, featuring home-and-home engagements with both Aquinas of LaCrosse and Loras of Dubuque. Also on the agenda for the hopeful golfers was the Wisconsin State Catholic Tourney in which the Knights placed fifth two years ago.

Varsity Baseball -- Highest Hopes

Four first-string lettermen, infielders Mike Tate and Ed Gormley, outfielder Bruce Drangle, and ace-pitcher Tom Gill, returned from last year's 7-1 varsity baseball squad to add the victory punch to the 1957 edition of the Knights. Pitcher Gill reached the high point of his Campion career by hurling a 10-inning, 1-0 no-hit, no-run win over Aquinas in the last game of last year. As this year's season opened, Gormley moved to the catcher's spot, Dan Dries and Doug Miller formed the short-to-second combo, flanked by Tate at third and either John Powers or Paul Nigro alternating at first. The outfield consisted of Drangle in left, George Burbach roaming the spacious center-field area, and Mike Meissner controlling right.

The squad opened the '57 season by dropping a 1-0 squeaker to Dyersville Xavier, one of the toughest opponents on Campion's schedule. Gill put forth a one-hit effort, and twice the Knights moved runners to second and third but lacked the needed clutch hit. The toughest contests which remained for the Knights were the return match with Dyersville and a home-and-home engagement with LaCrosse Central. Two games with pesky Aquinas, a single match against LaCrosse Logan, and two final contests with ever-present rival Loras rounded out the rugged nine-game schedule. Coach Jim Peterson again guided the squad with his baseball know-how. He was helped by Mr. Gadzikowski, S.J., who worked with the pitchers.

Junior Knights Prepare For Greater Things

Despite the rather poor showing of the junior varsity this past season, they accomplished their end. The purpose of the Jay Vees is not so much a good record as it is the development of future varsity material. It strives to teach both the fundamentals of the game and most of all the lesson of good sportsmanship. The 0-4 record of the team was composed of two losses to Loras, 20-0 and 18-0, and one each to Central 20-7 and Aquinas 12-7. Quarterback Mike Pluemer directed speedy halves Jerry Kuchenbecker and John Hubbard and pile-driving fullback Brian Drangle, behind such talented linemen as Bob Castellini, Dan Hereley, and Dick Schaefer. Bob Malady continually sparked the defensive play, especially in the second Loras game, in which the Jr. Knights put forth their best.

Jay Vees Rack Up Overwhelming 27-5 Total

This year the Campion junior varsity basketball squad was a team to be proud of. Under the expert direction of coach Father Walter Halloran, S.J., this team smashed all previous records for Campion Jay Vees, piling up 27 big wins against only five losses. They performed equally well against varsity opponents as against the "B" squads and junior varsities they faced. Father Halloran gave the whole team plenty of chance to see action and to gain experience, and the fact that there were no "stars" on this squad accounted for the steady team play that won those 27 games. None the less, the names of co-captains Denny Walsh and Jerry Kuchenbecker, and of Bill Lennartz, Ken Frauenfelder, Brian Drangle, Dave Kraemer, and Rick McMahon stand out. These men formed the nucleus of a squad which will go down in the memory of all who witnessed its fine spirit and will to win as one of Campion's finest.

CIL Championship Trophy

Campion Intramural Leagues

On returning in September, the students found a new intramural athletic system awaiting them. Fr. Jakubek introduced the class competition idea in the form of the Contrary to past years, the driving force CIL, the Campion Intramural Leagues. of the leagues was not only the individual trophies that are awarded to the winners, but the new CIL trophy which was awarded to the class gaining the highest total of points in all sports during the year. To get the ball rolling, each sophomore, junior, and senior class selected a captain whose job it was to draw up the class entries and submit them for scheduling. A record of each class's performances was kept and was tallied on a point basis.

From the very outset, the third year "A" class took the lead and was never challenged. Under the fine leadership of class-captain, Bob Dickinson, they entered as many men in each event as possible. By doing so they maintained their lead.

The success of the CIL can be attributed to its organizer and moderator, Fr. Jakubek. Through his boundless energy, the CIL board was kept up to date with the class rankings, individual statistics, and team schedules. Among the various leagues and tourneys featured in the CIL were football, basketball, and baseball, plus newcomers soccer, volleyball, and hockey.

CIL Pigskin Review --- Fine Start

The new idea of six-man football took hold quickly as all the classes submitted their entries. Every afternoon from Sept. 19 until early November, shackees doled out equipment and either Mr. Gadzikowski or Mr. Dutkiewicz trudged out to the football fields to watch over some of their more exuberant wards.

4A set the pace in the junior-senior "pro" league right from the opening kick-off and went on to win ten straight encounters to take the championship. They completely dominated all opposition and allowed their opponents to score only six points while massing a total of 211 for themselves. In the sophomore bracket it was the 2A aggregation that came out on top of a rather balanced league.

Besides the usual league games there were two other classic battles—the annual junior-senior games. In the first tussle these arch-rivals squared off on the varsity playing field with the seniors having to come from behind to salvage a 6-6 tie. However, the second game was an entirely different story for the determined fourth-year men who won going away, 20-0.

Spirit was high as the season ended and basketball was eagerly anticipated. The CIL had successfully passed its first test.

Sharpshooters Form Spirited Leagues

The CIL basketball leagues were ushered in with the same enthusiasm that was so characteristic of football and soccer.

The leagues were split into two divisions —the "pro" league and the "semi-pro" league—according to a player's ability. The "pro" league usually boasted a faster brand of ball, but it certainly wasn't an exception to see a "semi-pro" game draw more attention than an upper-bracket contest.

4A kept up their winning ways when they switched from gridiron to the hard court and began to walk away from the rest of the teams in the pro division. However at mid-season they ran into the highly spirited opposition of the bolstered squads of 4B and 4D. But led by Dries and Gehred they ran up an 18-3 record to squeeze by the 17-4 total of 4B. Following these two leaders were 4D and 4C who were well ahead of the junior teams.

In the semi-pro leagues 4D-2 walked off with honors, posting a 20-1 record. Led by the scoring of Mike O'Brien, they dominated the twenty-two team race. Tied for the second position were 4A-2 and 2A with 16-4 records.

Gridiron Goes South American

With the tremendous effect of class spirit emerging from CIL activities, a filler sport was introduced to keep this enthusiasm riding high between football and basketball. Soccer was the sport chosen. Many had never played the sport before, but soon learned it from such apt geniuses as Enrique Braun and Robert Garcia, Mexico's good will ambassadors to Campion. It was decided by Fr. Jakubek that one round of play would be sufficient to determine a champion. The proud victors turned out to be 3A, boasting a 7-0 record, followed by 3B with a 5-2 total.

Late Fall shadows lengthened as Soccer took over the stage. For most it was just running and kicking; but for Henry Braun (in white pants above and lower right) it was a chance to show the finer points of passing off one's head and skillfull dribbling with educated feet.

Volleyball and Hockey Fill Out CIL Schedule

Volleyball was one of the many new additions to the organized league system. It was set up for those who did not wish to participate in the regular season sports; but as it turned out many took part in both. In both rounds of play, fall and winter, there were tight races right up to the final contests. 4D took the fall round, squeaking by an up-and-coming 4A squad. In the winter indoor play, these same two teams were forced into a playoff. Again, the strong and steady 4D group managed to edge their rivals and cop the trophy.

The hockey games this year were very well organized and very hotly contested. Leading the league was 3A with ten wins and one loss. The only stiff competition for the number one spot came from the composite National team with a 6-6 total. The Americans landed in the 3rd position with 4-5 tally. At the bottom of the totem pole was the 3D squad with a 1-9 record.

Gridiron Mighty-mites

In junior division also, hot competition characterized the pigskin action. Three rounds were played and the winner of each went into the playoffs. In the A league playoffs, Armalavage, first round winner, was defeated by Shapiro, who dominated the second round. He in turn was downed 19-0 by Elworth, top man in the third round. The B bracket saw Moffit against Morrison in the playoff match. After a scoreless tie in the first game, trophy-minded Moffit handed Morrison a 13-0 setback in the second playoff. In C league Koelsch dominated all three rounds with a combination of speed and know-how. His closest rival was Pluemer.

Hockey Champs. McKeown, Leibold, Woods, Hamilton, P. Carey.

Jr. Div. Stanley Cup Enthusiasts

Many an observer was fascinated by the professional ability shown by the junior division hockey players. After a rough season on the blades, the Maple Leafs, led by captain Bill Bachner and the scoring magic of Pete Carey, copped the coveted trophy. Captained by their scoring ace, Tom Morrison, the Barons landed in the second slot. Dick Varco's Sophs placed third followed by Mike Wagen's Bruins.

On the record sheet, Morrison accounted for the most goals, closely rivaled by Dan Alexander and Bob Largura. In a post season contest, the junior divvers, although they were defeated 2-0, proved their mettle by holding their own against a strong senior six.

Small Yard Takes to Hardcourt

Each of the three junior division leagues played two scheduled rounds, after which the winners of each round went into the playoffs. Carl Ganley's squad swept both rounds in the A league competition, but only after rival Reedy was upset by Sullivan. In B league the race was undecided going into the last few days as O'Kane's team was constantly threatening front-running Eck. Only after a flurry of crucial wins did Roger Eck's quintet cop the title.

In the C bracket, first-round champ Lein defeated Doherty, the winner of the second round, for the title. Lein jumped to an early lead in the playoff match, and Doherty was never able to catch up.

Campion's Champions

Besides the team competition, the CIL provided a wide range of individual tournaments. Fr. Jakubek organized every kind of contest from field-goal kicking to chess. Participants gained points for their respective classes and winners got trophies. The big tournaments of the school year included a grand scale bowling tourney, tennis, pool, billiards, ping-pong, and handball. Also during the major-sports' seasons, contests were held in specialized phases of the sport. During the football season, field-goal kicking, punting, and passing competion was held; during basketball, free-throw and long-shot contests were staged. Also a golf driving contest was put on in November.

The individual sports program filled out the complete CIL sports system into such a varied set-up that it invaded the interests of every Knight.

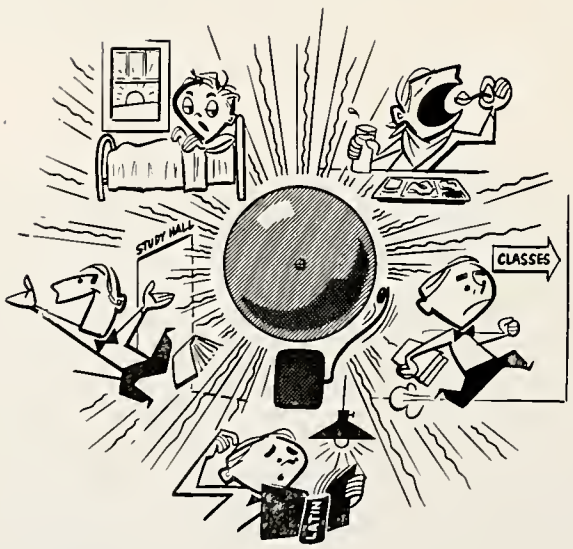
. . . who will grow in MEMORIES



"I am a part of all that I have met."
Whatever life brings Joe Campion after he graduates, the memories of his boarding-school days will remain deep within him. The passing years will enhance the many happy memories and melt away any not-so-happy ones. These dusty pages in a 1970 attic will bring back thoughts of good times, sports and the Campion spirit, bull sessions, immortal pranks and the jugs which followed them, the many never-to-be-forgotten friends—yes, even the undying bell.
Joe Campion will go many miles out of his way to see an old classmate, to re-live and re-laugh the eternal "Remember the day when . . ."

School Days--Good Old Golden Rule Days

Aug. 28

Squad takes break after grueling practice under hot August sun.

The return of 25 football players in August anticipated the 1956-57 school year. The team sweated out 11 days of calisthenics, blocking, and passing in a spirited attempt to mold together a representative Campion squad. Then on the fourth and fifth of September the silver "Campion Special" Zephyr rolled up to the campus and the largest group of frosh and upperclassmen in history piled out to begin a new year. The next Saturday they crowded onto Hoffman Field for their first glimpse of the new and unheralded team. The spirit generated from the decisive win over Assumption and from the enthusiastic response to Fr. Jakubek's new Campion Intramural League (CIL) set the pace for the whole year. Seniors realized they were the graduates-to-be when they posed for portraits and began election campaigning. September was an inspiration to both faculty and students to accept the challenge for a more than successful year in all phases of Campion life.

October - Good Start Pays Off

With October came an intensifying of the school spirit begun so well in September. The Sodality launched its activities by sponsoring a living Rosary to Mary. The seniors enjoyed a hilarious week of political posters and campaign broadcasts out over the campus via loudspeakers before electing their officers. But the outstanding event was the Homecoming weekend. Friday night students and their visitors took part in the pep rally and snake dance around the giant bon-fire. Saturday they revelled in the smashing gridiron victory and in the evening made merry at the homecoming dance and carnival. Two weeks later, the junior and senior sodalists entered on a Day of Recollection. For the juniors it was a preparation for their induction into the Sodality.

November--Everything From Exams to Dances

November began with the call for basketball. Spirit was running high as everyone looked for the basketball team to follow in the footsteps of the football squad. The Sinsinawa Mixer and the Thanksgiving Dance were the social highlights of the month. On November 11, forty Knights traveled to "the Mound" for an afternoon of long awaited dancing. A few weeks later, a hundred and fifty girls from Aquinas of La Crosse and Visitation of Dubuque arrived at the dining hall for what proved to be Campion's best Thanksgiving dance. In November the students reached their peak in the classroom with quarter exams, and on the intramural field with the completion of football leagues and the advent of basketball.

Dec. 21

Tom Woerth and friend caught by photog, Fr. Carey, at Christmas prom.

The surprise appearance of the Harlem Globetrotters, arranged by Fr. Eagan and the senior class officers, got the month of December off on the right foot. Then at an evening Mass on the feast of the Immaculate Conception, an Offertory Procession was held at Campion for the first time. Representatives from each organization and class on campus plus students from six foreign nations placed an unconsecrated host in a ciborium, signifying the offering of his organization or country. Pre-Christmas exams were the final concern of the students. On the twenty-first, after a long but profitable three months, the Knights left for two-and-a-half weeks of carefree vacationing, touched off by the Christmas Prom at Chicago's Blackstone Hotel.

Another Year---
More Memories

Final review for province exams greeted the returning Knights. January was the month in which the Junior Varsity proved itself to be the best sophomore team to come from Campion in recent years. The between-semester break featured the annual Winter Sports Day races, organized by the CIL and dominated by junior Bob Wickham. After exams, a Spanish Jesuit, Fr. Savaal, visited Campion with the second largest relic of St. Ignatius of Loyola. He first addressed the student body at Mass and then, in an informal session, explained the history of the relic to the Sodality. This month the school settled down after a long vacation to renew the spirit of study and work which so characterized the first semester.

Testing Ground of School Spirit

Feb. 16

February is generally the month that tests the strength of school spirit; and the challenge was met with flying colors. At the semester assembly greater numbers than usual were called to the stage for honors, and Frs. Corrigan and Doran congratulated the student body on their achievements thus far and urged them on to greater heights. The girls from Sinsinawa again opened the doors of their gym to the Knights for an afternoon dance. The following week the seniors traveled to La Crosse for the thrilling regional championship victory over Aquinas—the ticket to the state tourney at De Pere.

March 2

The enthusiasm of the Military Ball ushered in March with a splash of old southern hospitality. Under the glow of an Alabama moon, two hundred cadets and their dates danced to Larry Foster and his orchestra. Lieut. Joseph Markey was chosen king and given the honor of leading the Grand March. The state tourney at De Pere, Wisconsin, was next to capture the attention of the student body, but the team was eliminated in the first round by the control play of Assumption. This year, as in the past, large crowds turned out to make the Novena of Grace to St. Francis Xavier and to hear the scholastics deliver talks on his life and sanctity. This month was climaxed by the annual three-day retreat, given by Frs. Sthokal and Halley.

Campion's long khaki line passes in review during federal inspection.

After returning from the long-awaited Easter vacation, the Knights prepared for the annual federal ROTC inspection and the Mothers' Day festivities. Baseball, track, tennis and golf plus evening softball leagues renewed the vigorous spirit of the school year, which was now moving into its final days. As final exams drew near, the students put forth their last all-out effort in the classroom. The seniors looked toward May 29, reception of a diploma, congratulations from relatives and friends, and the expression of pride on the faces of parents. April and May were a fitting conclusion to a most successful year, a year of hard work, co-operation, and tremendous school spirit.

Graduation Days — The climax of four years of work, play, and memories.

May 29

...and get back a MAN

On May 29, Joe Campion switches the tassle on his graduation cap and formally becomes Mr. Joseph Campion, Jr., '57. Perhaps, as he packs to return home, he discovers the 1954 Knight. It tells him of a tremendous change—"Was that me just four years ago?" In the jump from the Kostka Hall alcoves to the "plush living" of Marquette Hall's private rooms, Joe has grown up physically. But far more, he has grown in maturity: Campion has taught him to face reality, to admit his limitations, to accept punishment, to rise to the responsibility of hard study, to make mature decisions. Today, he is a man.

Our Special Gratitude to ...

Mr. George Burbach, Sr., for the many hours so generously given to enlivening our book with the "Joe Campion" cartoons and for helping us design the cover.

Fr. Edward Hipschen, S.J., for the pictures of the buildings and for so often lending his photographic skill to fulfill special needs.

Mr. Jack Howe, our printer, and Mr. Eldred Olson, our engraver, for their patience and helpful advice.

Mr. Robert Madigan, our mirthful photograhper, for the pleasant associations on "shooting days" together with the gift of his time and artistry.

Br. Leonard Tessier, S.J., for the craftsmanship bestowed on the symbols in each of the six section pages.

Mr. Joseph Zorc, Sr., for his generosity and interest shown in so many ways.

The Chicago Fathers' and Mothers' Clubs for their ready co-operation and aid.

Each of our Advertisers and Patrons whose generous response to our requests has made the '57 Knight possible.

May God reward you and yours,

Fr. Joseph F. Eagan, S.J., Moderator, and the entire Knight Staff.

Congratulations to the Graduates of '57 ... --Chicago Fathers' Club

Messrs. Fred Nicolai, Louis Prangle, Charles Biggam, and Edmund Listecki pose for polaroid shot at monthly Fathers' Club meeting.

The Fathers' Club of Chicago is the largest assemblage of Campion fathers. With an eye open for Campion's future, they are helping plan the building program and organizing a fund raising campaign. They also helped the Knight staff when aid, both financial and technical, was needed. The monthly downtown meetings of the Chicago fathers with the Campion faculty members enable them to become better acquainted with one another, with the school, and with their sons' progress.

During the students' Easter vacation, the fathers held their most enjoyable get-together of the year, the annual Sports Night Dinner. Fathers and sons gathered from throughout Chicagoland to hear witty emcee, John Carmichael, introduce such famous figures from the sports world as Bill Pierce and Nellie Fox of the hometown White Sox and Paddy Driscoll, head coach of the Chicago Bears.

Mr. Robert Bell (standing) and Mr. Anthony Rudis look over plans for Campion's new building project.

. . . and Lots of Luck in the Future --Chicago Mothers' Club

Mrs. Whiting, Mrs. Prangle, Fr. Carey, Mrs. Wall, and Mrs. Bell view Mothers' Club financial report.

The Campion Mothers' Club of Chicago continued this year its fine record of generous activity and dedication. The mothers meet monthly at a luncheon on the same day that the Fathers' Club meets. Usually they are shown films from school, hold question-answer sessions with faculty members, or informally discuss the progress of their sons with guest Jesuits. In addition to these business-entertainment luncheons, they also attend frequent get-togethers of various sections within the club. These serve a social function and have been highly successful financially.

The Campion Mothers' Club seemed to be ever present this year when aid was needed. In conjunction with the Fathers' Club , the energetic mothers netted $5,000 on the annual Homecoming carnival and also helped stage the Military Ball. The success of their activities was proved by the large donation which they were able to make to the building fund at the end of the school year.
